visit the very interesting old Chapel and graveyard. Take the next right turn and a few miles along this road is Cahermacnaughten. This Cashel served as a Brehon Law School until the 17th century. Continue on to the T Junction and turn right for Ballyvaughan.

Option 3

A short distance from the village of Ballyvaughan the early 13th century Corcomroe Cistercian Abbey located near Bellharbour. From here continue in the direction of New Quay and visit the Martello Tower in Finnavarra. A walk along the beautiful Fleggy shore is not to be missed. A short distance to Kinvara and visit Dunguaire Castle a 16th century tower house. Take the Gort road for a visit to Coole Park a 10-15 minute drive. Coole Park was once the home of Lady Augusta Gregory, dramatist, folklorist and co-founder of the Abbey Theatre. From here you can retrace your steps to Ballyvaughan.

Cycling

For the experienced cyclist any of the options in the Scenic Routes section of this brochure are also suitable for a day trip by bike.

Family Cycle

From the village of Ballyvaughan cycle out the Fanore road (R477) for just over one mile and turn left on to the Cappabhaile road. Continue on past Newtown Tower house to meet the N67. Turn left and continue to the Corofin junction. Turn right, [R480] follow the signs for Aillwee Cave to the entrance gates. Continue straight on the Wood loop walkway to bring you back to the village. Please remember to close gates and leave no trace.

Another option for the fit experienced cyclist is to follow Option 2 under Scenic routes to the crossroads after Caherconnell Stone Fort. Here you can turn left on to L1042, climbing over the mountain you can look into the Carron Turlough (polje) the biggest in Ireland and Great Britain. Cycle towards the village of Carron, continue towards the Galway road, visiting Temple Cronan, located just outside the village. Continue on to Bellharbour and back to Ballyvaughan, stopping at Corcomroe Abbey in Bellharbour.

Alternative routes from Carron village for those who are still feeling energetic: turn right opposite the Parish Church following signs for the Burren Perfumery. After a few more hills, hollows and a lot of hazel you will meet a gate on your left with information notices, a small parking area and great views of Mullaghmore mountain. Here at Keelhilla is a good place to take a rest from the cycling and take a walk cross country to St Colman's cave and Bothar na Mias. Back on the bikes and continue till you meet the main road at Cappaghmore. Turn left and continue through Funchin to the Corker Pass junction. Turn left and continue up the hill. Now this ancient highway to Corcomroe Abbey will test your fitness levels. Continue down the valley and after about one mile you will meet a boheren on the left leading to Oughmama Churches. If you don't visit the churches, continue on to next junction and turn right for Bellharbour. In Bellharbour, take a left and this will lead you back to Ballyvaughan.
